Q: What restrictions exist in the condominium documents on the leasing of my unit?

A: Article XII, Section 12.5 through 12.5.10, of the Declaration: provides that no lease shall be made, nor shall any such attempted lease be valid unless the Association's prior written approval of such lease shall have been first obtained.

Additionally, refer to the Leasing and Occupancy Policies adopted 7/28/20, which include but not limited to the following: All persons not named on the Deed of Record, over the age of 18 years that will occupy the unit for over 30 days, shall be required to complete the background check (through the current background screening company) at the prevailing rate. The only exception to this is immediate family members, if residing in the Unit with the owner.

In accordance with Florida Statute 718.106 (4) which states in pertinent part:

(4) When a unit is leased, a tenant shall have all use rights in the association property and those common elements otherwise readily available for use generally by unit owners and the unit owner shall not have such rights except as a guest, unless such rights are waived in writing by the tenant. Nothing in this subsection shall interfere with the access rights of the unit owner as a landlord pursuant to chapter 83. The association shall have the right to adopt rules to prohibit dual usage by a unit owner and a tenant of association property and common elements otherwise readily available for use generally by unit owners.

therefore, when a unit is leased the owner of the unit will no longer have use of the common elements of the Association, including but not limited to; use of the club house, pool, tennis courts and other amenities within the Association. The tenant will continue to be able to use the same unless the owner is more than 90 days delinquent in any monetary obligation to the Association, in which case the tenants use rights may be suspended. The owner will continue to have ingress and egress rights to enter into the gates of the Association and use the road ways to access their unit*
